TWO UCHRA EMPLOYEES RECEIVE ROMA CERTIFICATION

Two employees of the Cookeville-Putnam County office of Upper Cumberland Human Resource Agency (UCHRA) are now certified in Results-Oriented Management and Accountability (ROMA) for the Community Action Network.

Megan Spurgeon, Community Services Assistant Director, completed training to become a certified ROMA Trainer while TaShana Hooks, Community Services Manager, completed training to become a certified ROMA Implementer.

"This is a huge accomplishment," said LaNelle Godsey, Community Services Director. "I am very proud of both Megan and TaShana. In the state of Tennessee, there are less than 20 certified ROMA Trainers and Implementers. Megan and TaShana worked very hard and spent a lot of time preparing for their certification tests."
